SOUND OF THE SOIL

WHAT IS TAAL VADYA?

Indian music is divided into a plethora of genres by its regions and cultures. It is the only country to host two forms of Classical music within its borders – Hindustani and Carnatic.

TAAL VADYA is an idea to bring together a group of remarkable musicians from different spheres of Indian drumming whose music is woven together into a singular, universal language. It is a magical amalgamation of indigenous, folk drum beats with the mellifluous strokes of their classical percussive contemporaries that constitute the very essence of India and its rich cultural heritage.

This confluence of Indian rhythms will leave an everlasting impact in the hearts of the audience. Let us celebrate the Sound of Soil – the quintessence of existence.

THE ARTISTES :

Pt. Tanmoy Bose is one of the foremost musicians in the contemporary world music and an indispensable member in the global fraternity of Percussionists. His long association with the two great icons, Bharat Ratna, Pt Ravi Shankar and Ustad Amjad Ali Khan has made him a global musical ambassador. He is a foremost Classical musician in India and his recent solo concerts as well as accompaniment with Padmabibhushan Dr. I Subramaniam and such great musicians has won hearts of innumerable learned audiences worldwide.

He has been an ardent researcher and composer. His long tours around the world has given him opportunities to interact with musicians and composers and his immense expertise and rich experience has resulted in the creation of this project, TAAL VADYA – Sound of the Soil.
